

The Goolis are a group of mini monsters that lived hidden from the rest of the world until they helped save a princess in distress. From that day on they would live nearby the King whom was more amused with the Goolis then any other.

The King of the World acts like a bored child, always wanting something to amuse him. Now the Goolis are requested to do outlandish things such as find the last unicorn, eat every rock in sight since the king hates rocks after stepping on one, bake the tastiest cake and so on. Meanwhile they are still just children themselves the goolis often find themselves getting in a mess of their own. The Daily adventures of a Gooli consist of going about things the wrong way but having it all work out in the end.

Qwip is a trickster at heart. This little trouble maker is the younger brother to Shummi. Qwip is an instigator and loves mischief, but when the jig is up, Qwip is the first one to run away. Loud and playful, Qwip can charm a crowd with his childish nature. Qwip loves to pick on Koz and Blinks for having horns but no noses.

Shummi is the responsible Gooli. Always on time and never slacking, the other Gooli's rely on Shummi to see a task through. Keeping a level head through most of their adventures, Shummi always rises to a challenge. Shummi has the patience of a saint and ends up playing referee for the other Gooli's.

LARGO

Largo is a sneaky girl Gooli. She loves to creep and play hide-and-go-seek. Largo loves coming up with schemes to make life easier for her and the other Gooli's, too bad those plans always backfire. Largo loves to pal around with Skellbo on her down days. Being the only female Gooli, Largo tends to have her temper tantrums occasionally. She loves attention, but also likes her privacy.

Skellbo is the creepier Gooli. He spends most of his time day dreaming about spooky things. Skellbo keeps the other Gooli's feeling brave in scary situations, since he enjoys monsters so much. Skellbo tends to be a loner most of the time, except for when Largo comes around. Skellbo is the bravest of the Gooli's, nothing scares him, except for the dark!

BLINKS

Blinks is the jokester of the Gooli's. Always up for a laugh, Blinks will go to the extreme to make his crew chuckle. Blinks has a problem with coming off as obnoxious more than half of the time, and never knows when to quit. Determined and outgoing, Blinks is always the first to notice when something is not going according to plan.

Gork is the sleeper cell. Most of the time his head is in the clouds and Gork appears out of it, but get on his bad side and you'll wish you hadn't. Boom bang pow! Gork will not hesitate to knock you out! He is very protective of his Gooli crew, and if you mess with them, Gork will mess with you. Gork is known for his speed and strength.

THE Gooli's

Koz always seems to have a gloomy cloud over his head. Maybe you would too if you only had one way of seeing the world. It doesn't help Koz much to have Qwip constantly picking on him. Cousin to Blinks, Koz finds himself living in the shadows of the other Gooli's, as he always thinks he brings nothing to the table. Koz is skiddish and paranoid almost all of the time. One thing Koz has that the others don't, is incredible smarts.

Koz

King Doop

He's the King of the World so of course he likes everything to be done his way. The King is more quirky than you would think - he loves things to be colorful and different. He's obsessed over bizarre foods and fruits such as Pineberries, which his daughter the princess is named after. King Doop was always easily bored and wanting to be entertained which is why he loves the Goolis so much. Before them he lived a much more bored life.

The most spoiled girl in the world and always wanting more. Princess Pineberry is the reason the Goolis are part of the Kingdom. After a major temper tantrum she fled the Castle and was soon spotted by a vicious were wulfenklien. Her screams were soon heard by the Gooli's and together they spooked away the Were Wulfenklien pretending they were a huge and mighty monster. She thanked the Goolis and introduced them to the King. Since then she has been busy doing teenager things
